Lake Oswego School District FOUNDATION

INVESTING IN TEACHERS

Think Globally, Teach Locally...

Lake Oswego schools gear up to prepare students for the future

You may have seen this phrase on a recent card sent to members of the Lake Oswego community who were among the generous donors to the Lake Oswego School District Foundation last year. But, what does the phrase actually mean?

It means that we live in a shrinking world—that the students we are educating today and tomorrow, will not be competing, or working, with just other Oregonians, or even other Americans. They will be a part of a global community, and that the education they receive must prepare them for that.

But the education our students receive is local—with OUR teachers, in OUR schools, in OUR community.

The Lake Oswego community knows the value of having great schools. Historically, it has made education a priority. Through donations to the LOSD Foundation, we have been able to fund our schools such that we can offer our kids more.

In the current school year, because of last year's unprecedented generosity, we had the opportunity to add teachers and classes back, after years of cuts. We now have smaller classes and new (or reinstated) electives in all schools, at all grade levels!

However, we cannot rest on last year's success. This is a year-to-year effort. The State budget numbers do look better this year but most of the Governor's proposed (and it is only proposed, far from a done deal) increase in education funding will not translate into additional teachers or classes—it will just keep up with inflation. If we want to keep what we have gained in the current year, we will need to fund it through the Foundation.

The 2007 Foundation campaign kicks off on February 17th with our school-based teams contacting District families asking for their support. Our goal is an ambitious $2.2 million. If we succeed, our kids are the winners—getting more teachers, smaller classes and more choices. We know that everyone is not able to give thousands of dollars—but nearly everyone is able to get involved. And, as much as we need the dollars, we also need the support of all of our families, with whatever and however they are able to give.

In the coming months, please join our partnership—of parents, of business and community members, of students and teachers—coming together to provide a world class education for Lake Oswego kids to prepare them for their participation in the global community.

I/We want to make a contribution to the Foundation.

From the President—

The Lake Oswego School District Foundation “invests in Teachers”. The heart of this year’s campaign is now upon us. Pledge letters and cards have gone out and our volunteer callers will soon be making contact with both past and prospective donors. Our focus this year is not only to preserve what we have achieved to date, but also to continue to build back selected programs and add others that will be essential as we move forward. As we look optimistically toward the future, the Foundation’s efforts will continue to be vital in helping provide the scope and breadth of programs necessary to prepare our children for the highly competitive and evolving world ahead.

There has been recent press around the Governor’s proposal to provide additional funding to K-12 education. Given the small school environment and declining enrollment within our District, the likely outcome will not provide our schools with the resources required to offer an exceptional and comprehensive college preparatory program consistent with the expectations of the Lake Oswego community. Funding of these resources will be further challenged by the anticipated increases that may come from the renewal of the teacher’s contract, scheduled to be negotiated later this year. In order to preserve and build upon last year’s achievements, the Foundation’s contribution to funding teacher’s salaries will once again be crucial.

As we move into the critical period of the 2006-2007 fund raising campaign, it is important for us to remain focused on the objective of not only maintaining small class sizes, but also building back and/or expanding programs that will continue to raise the bar for education throughout our schools. Some of these program possibilities include:

- Language electives in our elementary and junior high schools.
- Technology electives in our junior and senior high schools
- A broader range of business-related electives in our senior high schools.
- Added counseling positions throughout the District.

This year’s Foundation fund raising target is $2.2 million. It is our expectation that this level of Foundation contribution will help fund teacher salaries to accomplish three objectives:

- Preserve last year’s achievements,
- Assist in absorbing a portion of the increase in salaries that may come from the upcoming Teachers contract negotiations,
- Build back and/or add needed programs to better prepare our children for the future.

It will once again take a collective effort by many throughout our community to make this all come together. We look forward to our community’s ongoing success and are deeply appreciative of your support. Thank you!
